To Save Lives

IMPROVING DATA FOR DECISION-MAKING IN GLOBAL CERVICAL CANCER PROGRAMS – APEC WORKSHOP

Guiding Questions

- What are some of the key ways that the tools and guiding information can support evidence-based programming for countries directly, as well as through increasing the global knowledge base?
- What are some of the key ways that the toolkit can support system strengthening and development of cost-effective strategies for cervical cancer? For other cancers and NCDs?

IDCCP Toolkit Next Steps

IDCCP Project Wrap Up Activities

- The IDCCP Toolkit will be featured at the World Cancer Congress 2016 in Paris in a panel led by our WHO colleagues
- A training workshop to build capacity for the facilitated use of the Costing Analysis and Planning Tool will be conducted in collaboration with WHO African Regional Office
- An orientation workshop to support uptake of the Patient and Programme Monitoring and Facility-based Surveys components will be held in collaboration with WHO/PAHO, facilitated by Jhpiego developers

IDCCP Toolkit Clearance and Dissemination

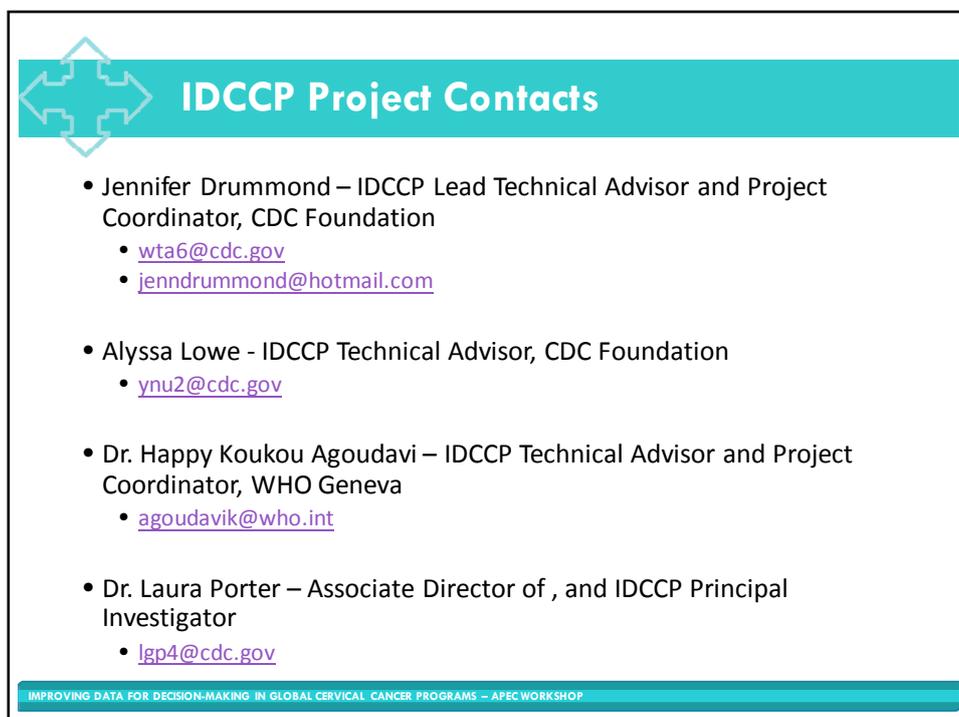

- A final DRAFT version of the IDCCP Toolkit developed by select subcontractors (CDC/DCPC, Indiana University, Jhpiego, and SMU) with guidance from the IDCCP consortium partners (CDC, CDCF, Bush Institute, and WHO) will be provided for your reference.
- The DRAFT Toolkit, including all tools, modules, and guiding information contained within must undergo formal technical review and clearance processes at CDC and WHO, and therefore cannot be considered CDC- or WHO-endorsed at this time.
- The DRAFT status of the IDCCP Toolkit should be noted, as some changes may be made as a function of the final clearance processes.
- A formal dissemination of the English, Spanish and French language version of the CDC- and WHO-endorsed IDCCP Toolkit will take place following formal agency clearance.
