AGENDA ITEM 7: Questions, Comments and Discussion

20. The JRAC Chairman sought for clarification from the representative of Korea whether there is a way member economies can be recognised although they are not participating in IECEE CB Scheme. Representative from Korea explained that the member economies can be recognized if they sign MoU or MRA between two countries.

21. Representative from Korea admitted that ASEAN have done well in their implementation of MRA however he wonder how many times the Joint Sectoral Committee for Electrical and Electronic Equipment (JSCEEEE) meeting take place and meet every year. ASEAN representative explained that the meeting will be held twice a year and the hosting country will be decided base on alphabetical order. The Chairman and Co-Chair will also be selected according to alphabetical order and the secretary of the meeting will be the ASEAN Secretariat. The meeting will be held for three days and sometimes an extra days will be allocated prior and back to back to the meeting for special seminars/presentation such as cooperation with International partner with US, EU-ARISE, METI-Japan JBMIA and etc. The meeting will discuss a lot of matters pertaining to the progress of the implementation of Agreement on the ASEAN Harmonised EEE Regulatory Regime (AHEEERR) and ASEAN EE MRAs well as updating latest development in each country. Some of other activities includes listing of CAB under ASEAN EE MRA, ratification and transposition of AHEEERR into national legislation of member states, harmonisation of regulating requirements, development of information booklet and etc.
22. Representative from Korea also asked how differences and difficulties due to different regulations in each country is resolved. Representative from ASEAN admitted that there are a lot of difficulties faced during the process. Despite the long discussion, the JSCEEE is the most advanced committee compare to other committee set up in term of development of MRA. Representative from Philippines agree that there are a lot of difficulties and disagreement, however the issues and problem will be discussed and compromise until the issue resolved.

23. The JRAC Chairman sought for clarification on how ASEAN MRA recognised some AMS member such as Myanmar which is not a member of IECEE through utilisation of IEC Standard. ASEAN representative respond that under the ASEAN EE MRA all AMS have agreed to used IEC Standard and therefore they have to accept it although they are not member of IECEE. Representative from Thailand added that AMS such as Myanmar, Brunei and Lao PDR do not regulate EEE product and do not have Act and Regulation. Therefore these country can accept all EEE product into their country.

24. Representative from Chinese Taipei who is also from APLAC sought for clarification on how many of members economy have signed the ASEAN MRA. Representative from ASEAN reply that all ASEAN member have signed the agreement. Two country do not regulate EEE and therefore no need to transpose their Act or Regulation. The rest of AMS have transposed their regulation except one country which is still in the final stage of transposition of their law so as to realign with the Agreement.

25. Representative from Chinese Taipei also asked whether the laboratory under ASEAN MRA need to be a signatory member of APLAC. The ASEAN representative’s mentioned that ASEAN MRA is implemented among ASEAN member only. Accreditation body should be among ASEAN member and therefore if the country is not a member of ASEAN, they are not accepted yet. Representative from Thailand added that under ASEAN MRA, if AMS do not have accreditation system in place in their country, they can accept accreditation body in other ASEAN country.

26. Representative from Japan would like representative from ASEAN to share the problems that encountered or faced by the Committee in implementing the ASEAN EE MRA noting that it will be implemented very soon. Representative from ASEAN explain that the ASEAN EE MRA should have been implemented in 2015, however there are still a lot of things and documents that need to be finalised. The committee still discussing matters pertaining to the safety aspect and have not start discussing matters on Environment and Electromagnetic Compatibality (EMC). As of now, it is not implemented yet as there are some country which have not fully transposed their Regulation in line with AHEEER requirements. Similarly there have been no product approval in AMS country using test report or certification under ASEAN listing yet.

27. Representative from Japan would like the ASEAN representative to explain step-by-step procedure by giving example of Malaysia case on how to accept test report and issuance of certificates. ASEAN representative explain that under ASEAN EEMRA, all AMS member mutually agree to accept test report and certification from the listed testing laboratory and listed certification bodies. Based on the presentation, there are 18 testing laboratory and 8 Certification bodies under the ASEAN listing as of now. He also described the process of listing of test lab and certification body through contestation process. While under AHEEERR, 121 agreed IEC standard with agreed Edition on EEE product have been identified and listed. He also explained that, each AMS have been tasked and assigned to prepare a certain documentation or procedures. For example Malaysia was tasked to prepare a guideline on procedure for ASEAN market surveillance activities for EEE and also certification processes based on Type 5 and Philippines was tasked to prepare ASEAN EEE Risk Assessment guidelines. In response to question from Japanese representative on Factory audit, the ASEAN representative reply that the committee is still in the final stage of preparing a step by step process on implementation of Type 1B and Type 5.

28. Representative from Philippines congratulate IEC on the introduction of new services provided in IEC website which is on Public Commenting and seek information on how comments submitted by for example Philippines processed. IEC responded that public comments can be made through website where user can create account and login and sent their comments. The responsibility party is the national committee who will eventually decide whether to accept or not the comment made by public. On the other hand, this will create an avenue for public who are not involved with technical or working group to submitted comments. IEC representative mentioned that so far they have received a lot of comment from European country and on this note, seeking all members of meeting to spread around news about the facilities that have been developed by IEC.

29. Representative from APLAC seek clarification from IEC representative with regards to public comment whether the comment can be about IEC Standard only or it can be also about IEC CB Scheme. Representative from IEC responded that the comments is only for the draft IEC Standard. Representative from APLAC also asked about the MoU that IEC have with ILAC whether the MoU focus on IEC EE CB Scheme or also cover other scheme. IEC representative replied that the MoU cover only IEC EE CB Scheme.

30. Representative from IEC seek clarification from Chile with regards to risk assessment methodology whether there is any weightage assigned to each of the Local Parameter (LP) when computing the risk assessment. Representative from Chile answer that all parameters have same weightage.

31. JRAC Chairman asked representative from Chile whether certification body from foreign country can be accredited as certification body in Chile by SEC. The representative from Chile respond that for the moment, it is not possible for any foreign certification body to be accredited as certification body in Chile.

32. Representative from APLAC would like to know how many foreign testing laboratory already have an agreement with domestic Certification Body in Chile. Representative from Chile stressed that one domestic CB in Chile can have more than one agreement with foreign test laboratory. He also mentioned that currently in Chile there are 12 domestic CB on electrical sector and 10 CB in oil/gas sector.

33. Representative from IEC seek answer from Chile with regards to EE MRA whether they accept any testing laboratory which already participating in CB Scheme. Representative from Chile replied that at this moment they don’t accept CB scheme. They accept testing laboratory which is accredited by Chile only. For example in the case of Korea where they issue CB test report and certificate which is recognised and accredited by Chile.
